Wasp Distracts Driver Into Fatal Accident

15-Year-Old Gouldsboro Girl Is Killed In Sciota Crash

Sister, Two Boys Injured In Accident

SCIOTA—Death ended a joyride here early yesterday for a 15-year-old girl. Her sister and two boys were injured seriously.

Dead of a broken neck and head injuries was Judy Ann Hibbs, 15, Gouldsboro, a Greene-Dreher High School sophomore.

Her sister, Carol E. Hibbs, 16, a senior, suffered a broken left arm, possible broken breastbone and multiple face cuts. Her condition was listed as fair, by East Stroudsburg General Hospital.

His brother, Richard Lee Parker, 19, is listed as "fair" with brain concussion and scalp cuts.

The sedan which crashed into a power pole on Route 12 here was crumpled into junk.

STROUDSBURG troopers Don Henzey and Emil J. Weber investigated the 2:30 a. m. crash. It occurred a few hundred feet from the Sciota post office on a straight stretch of highway, Henzey said.

Police said the two couples earlier in the evening had watched a drive-in movie near Wilkes-Barre. After the movie they started to drive to Bath to "visit some friends."

At Nazareth, Henzey said, the four changed their minds and decided to head for Cresco. It was at this point that Richard stopped driving and Donald took over the wheel.

POLICE said the car came down the hill from Saylorburg toward Sciota. The auto veered off to the left of the highway and clipped the pole. The left front fender and left door were ripped off by the impact, Henzey said.

The car went off the highway and rolled over and over. It came to rest on its wheels off the highway and about 45 feet past the pole Henzey said.

The General Hospital ambulance was summoned. All four were taken to the hospital. Judy was pronounced dead on arrival.

COUNTY Coroner Dr. Charles H. Rushmore made an inspection at the scene of the accident. He said the girl apparently died of a broken neck.

Police said that from their investigation of tire marks, position of the car, and other points, it appeared that the driver dozed at the wheel.

The car, police added, was evidently travelling at "a high rate of speed." Equal speed at that point is 50 miles an hour.

POLICE SAID they are "continuing the investigation" and will discuss the accident today with District Attorney Elmer D. Christine.

Miss Hibbs was the daughter of Wilmer and Ruby Bartleson Hibbs, formerly of Angels, but since last month residents at Gouldsboro.

Surviving in addition to her parents and sister, Carol are two sisters, Lois and Peggy; two brothers, Wilmer Jr. and George; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartleson, South Sterling; and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hibbs Sr., Philadelphia.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Tuesday at Frey funeral home, South Sterling, with Rev. Harry Roof officiating. Burial will be at Pine Grove Cemetery, South Sterling. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Aged Man Is Hospitalized

A 79-YEAR-OLD man was under treatment for "malnutrition and exposure" at General Hospital last night after he was found lying along old Route 611 near Mount Pocono.

The man, who gave his name as John Bellis and his address as Tannersville to hospital authorities, was taken to the hospital by State police of the Mount Pocono substation on recommendation of a borough physician.

Life Tube Slips From Girl In Delaware, Friend Saved

PORTLAND—Christina Lambert, 22, Allentown, drowned yesterday when she lost her grasp on a life tube in deep water of the Delaware River.

It was the fourth recent area drowning. A friend, Bernadine Zgebura, 19, of Egypt, was rescued. She was reported in shock most of the day and unable to be interviewed by police.

14 Airmen Are Killed Refueling

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, CALIF. — Fourteen men of the U. S. Air Force were killed early yesterday when their big refueling plane, groping through the dark and heavy overcast, crashed and burned on Box Springs Mountain near this base.

The KC97 Strato tanker of the 96th Bomb Wing at Altus, Okla. Air Force Base was headed for this southern California base but because of murky weather was directed by radio to land at Norton Air Force Base at San Bernardino, 12 miles to the north.

But Box Spring Mountain, a small range, lies between the two air bases. Air Force officials said that in circling to head for Norton the big craft hit the mountain at about the 3,000 foot level and then ricocheted onto a boulder-strewn ridge.

The Air Force said the plane carrying a crew of seven and with seven passengers aboard, hit the mountain and exploded at 3:08 a. m. PDT. Within an hour and a half a crew from the 42nd Air Rescue Squadron of March Air Base reached the scene and found the flaming wreckage with all aboard dead.

Work was started to bring the bodies to the air base hospital here, pending identification.

But Box Spring Mountain, a small range, lies between the two air bases. Air Force officials said that in circling to head for Norton the big craft hit the mountain at about the 3,000 foot level and then ricocheted onto a boulder-strewn ridge.

SILENT EVIDENCE of force of impact at Sciota was this remnant of door and fender ripped off in crash against this power pole last night. Car rolled over several times after hitting pole. Dead girl's neck was broken. (Staff Photo by Carlton)

THE DROWNING was reported to Bethlehem police about 11 a. m. Also called to the scene, along the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware at Shore Acres, were emergency rescue squads from Belvidere and Phillipsburg.

From that moment until after dark some 25 boats dragged and probed the area for Miss Lambert's body. More than 150 people gathered on the river bank to watch the search. There were no results.

The search will be resumed this morning, police said, with the possibility that a helicopter from Phillipsburg airport will be used.

Miss Lambert was the daughter of Victor Lambert, 168 Chestnut St., Allentown. The Lamberts were up for the weekend, at their summer cabin on the river.

THE WIND which blew gustily and hard during the day was blamed indirectly for the drowning.

Miss Lambert and her friend were floating in shallow water along a sand bar, according to reports, supported in a large inflated truck tube. The wind blew the tube northward toward deep water. In the deep portions the river at that point varies from 10 to 30 feet deep.

Once in deep water, the girls evidently became frightened and lost their hold on the tube, a resident said.

Two young men who saw that the girls were in trouble managed to rescue Miss Zgebura. Miss Lambert was reported unable to swim.

Three Injured In Collision At 7th And Ann

THREE MEN were injured in the collision of two cars at Seventh and Ann Sts., Stroudsburg, about 10:30 p. m. yesterday.

A head injury was suffered by Gilbert Cheeseman, Freeland, who was driving south on Seventh St. Cuts and bruises were sustained by James Adams, 22 N. Third St., Stroudsburg, and a passenger in his car, Robert Noak, East Stroudsburg, RD 1.

A witness to the crash was Raymond Miller, 720 Main St., Stroudsburg. Miller was standing on Ann St. east of Seventh St. when the Cheeseman car passed. He said he turned to look after it.

The Adams auto was travelling west on Ann St., according to Adams and Miller. The collision occurred in about the middle of the intersection. Miller alerted a telephone operator to call police and the hospital.

THE FRONT end of the Cheeseman car was pushed in. The Adams auto was struck in the side; it swung end for end, and rolled over until it crashed against a telephone pole on the post office property.

Although the car came to rest upside down and the steering wheel was shoved against the roof and windshield and door glass shattered, both occupants climbed out with only cuts and bruises.

Cheeseman lay on the pavement in the middle of the intersection until the General Hospital ambulance arrived. All three injured were taken. Adams and Noak were released after treatment.

Cheeseman was admitted, but reported in good condition.

The cars were towed away. Stroudsburg Borough police investigated the crash. The investigation is continuing today.

More Uranium Is Found Near Reading

READING — LeGrand E. Bush Jr., 29, an insurance underwriter and amateur geologist, says he has found uranium oxide on his 58-acre mountain tract of land bordering the Oley Valley.

Bush said Saturday the ore had been assayed as having a radioactive analysis of .027 per cent.

The ore discovery was the second in Berks County. Jonathan F. Rohrbach, Reading lumber dealer, reported three months ago that the mineral had been discovered on his Oley Valley far near Loachsville.

Daniel Calls For Lion's Den

LONDON — Just before he died up in Yorkshire, Septimus Daniel Gilbert made his will. The testament, published here Saturday, contained these instructions: "Bury me in the same grave as my wife and on the gravestone put this inscription—Daniel in the Lion's Den."

Aunt, Two Cousins Are Also Victims

A VACATIONING East Stroudsburg RD1 girl burned to death with her aunt and two cousins early yesterday near Phillipsburg, N. J.

The child, Claudia Ludwig, 10, was due to return home later in the day after winding up a two-week holiday with her aunt.

The 3:45 a. m. fire swirled through the frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker of Ridge Road, in Harmony Township, close to Phillipsburg.

WASHINGTON, N. J. State police said the flames and smoke woke Mrs. Baker and her husband in their first floor bedroom. The couple ran into the yard in their nightclothes.

Then they heard the children screaming in their second-floor bedroom, police said.

Police said Mrs. Baker's brother, Albert Ludwig, 27, was in the other second-floor bedroom. He too heard the children screaming and tried to get to them but was driven back by flame and smoke, he told police. He jumped out his bedroom window and escaped with minor injuries.

IN THE YARD below, Mrs. Baker broke away from her husband and ran into the flaming building to try to save the children. Her husband told police he tried to follow her into the home but was forced back by the fire. Mrs. Baker never came out again. While Ludwig and Baker watched, fire roared through the building.

The bodies of Claudia, Mrs. Baker, and her two sons, Ronald, 5, and Robert, 2, were found later in the ashes and ruins which fell into the basement. Ludwig and Baker were treated at Warren Hospital. Baker was in shock, police said.

Claudia Ludwig was scheduled to have been picked up yesterday by her parents, Claude J. and Evelyn Richardson Ludwig.

SURVIVING ARE her parents; a brother, Richard, at home; a step-brother, Kenneth Albert, and two step-sisters, Gloria and Nancy Albert; grandfathers, Edward Ludwig and Ralph Richardson, both of East Stroudsburg RD1.

She was a member of Coolbaugh Presbyterian Church. Services will be at 2 p. m. today at Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg.

Burial will be at Prospect Cemetery.

Three Escape Injuries In Plane Crash

ASHEVILLE, N. C. — Three Lancaster, Pa., men escaped injury when their four-seater passenger plane crashed in a take off attempt here and was badly damaged.

They were identified as Robert Wagner, 37, the pilot; Arthur Bush, 39, and Jack Kirk, 29.

Kirk said that when they saw they couldn't take off successfully, Wagner cut the engine and the plane dropped onto a bank and overturned.

Eisenhower, Churchill Near End Of Conference Without Anti-Red Asian Agreement

By John Scall

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill neared the end of their three-day conference last night with no sign of agreement on a joint U. S.-British policy for saving Southeast Asia from Communism.

A final communique summing up the results of their talks reported being drafted for release today after a last meeting at the White House.

The Anglo-American leaders were said to be still split over the need for quick negotiations for an alliance of free nations which might include some of the Indo-China states.

EISENHOWER talked with Churchill for an hour in the White House study yesterday afternoon in a seventh meeting on the critical Southeast Asian problem and European defense issues.

Later, Secretary of State Dulles and a six-man American staff met for two-and-one-half hours with British Foreign Secretary Eden to review details of the same problem.

The White House declined to give any information except the topics discussed at the two sessions.

BUT, EDEN on leaving Dulles' home told reporters: "Good is my description of our talks."

British Ambassador Sir Roger Makins added, "If Mr. Eden says good, he means it's good all around."

Despite these remarks, informants reported Churchill and Eden were continuing to insist that negotiations for an Asiatic alliance must be delayed until France concludes her present Indo-China peace talks with the Communists.

The first solid clue about the outcome of the sessions here probably will come at noon today when Churchill holds a big news conference at a downtown hotel.

The joint communique probably will not be issued until after Churchill meets with the reporters. It may be delayed until Tuesday.

The President and Dulles are scheduled to meet with Churchill and Eden in a farewell get-together today at 10 a. m. Churchill is scheduled to leave Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. by plane for a brief visit to Ottawa to talk with Canadian government leaders.

Guatemala's Red President Quits Post Under Attacks

TEGUCIGALPA, HONDURAS — Leftist President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman of Guatemala announced in a radio broadcast last night that he was resigning.

The broadcast said he was turning the government over to Col. Carlos Enrique Diaz, commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

Associated Press dispatches direct from Guatemala City, the capital, said it was likely that a military junta under Diaz would take over direction of the government.

SATURDAY the anti-Communist forces of Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, who invaded Guatemala for the purpose of overthrowing the leftist government, had appealed to the armed forces to revolt.

Castillo Armas had proposed that the army join President Arbenz and his government and form a military junta to negotiate a ceasefire.

In his broadcast last night on the 10th day of the anti-Communist revolution, Arbenz declared that, "Deep within my conscience I do not think I am making a mistake. The day will come when there will be triumph for loyal Guatemalans under Col. Diaz."

HOURS BEFORE, the rebel "Liberation radio" had declared that Castillo Armas' columns were advancing almost without meeting resistance on the capital, and were within 43 miles of its gates.

A later rebel communique made no mention of that claim.

But Jack Rutledge, Associated Press correspondent in Guatemala City, said last night the invaders were reported within 70 miles of the capital.

Allentown Woman Dies Of Injuries

DELAWARE WATER GAP—A wasp caused an auto crash which killed an Allentown woman at 1:30 p. m. here yesterday.

Mrs. Lillian Mae Ritter, 64, of 518 Liberty St., suffered a fractured skull, broken neck, broken left hip, and multiple cuts on the scalp and face when her head went through the windshield.

She was dead on arrival at General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, about 2:30, police said.

TROOPERS Emil J. Weber and Don Henzey were just winding up their investigation of an early-morning fatal accident at Sciota when the call came in.

Weber said the driver was Mrs. Ritter's husband, Samuel O., 65, a machinist, who was driving east from this borough when the crash occurred.

Police said the couple was in the front seat. The wasp flew in the window. Mrs. Ritter swatted at it and missed. Then it flew toward her husband and he tried to swat it, police said.

AT THAT POINT the car went out of control and veered off on the left side of the highway, police said. It crashed into a stout tree a quarter mile west of this borough.

Ritter suffered multiple body cuts. He was admitted to the hospital.

It was not until about six hours later that Ritter was told his wife was dead. He answered, "Why couldn't it have been me?"

POLICE ARE continuing an investigation of the accident, and said they will consult District Attorney Elmer D. Christine today.

The two fatalities yesterday were the second and third this year for the territory patrolled by Stroudsburg State police. The three have occurred within 10 days.

The deaths were the seventh and eighth traffic fatalities in the county this year.

Mrs. Ritter was the daughter of the late Elmer and Sarah Hardman Hartzell of East Bangor.

SURVIVING in addition to her husband are a sister, Mrs. Ruth Reiff, Allentown; three brothers, Walter Hartzell, East Bangor, John H. and George W. of California.

She was a member of Dubbs Reformed Church, Allentown, had lived in that city 35 years.

Services will be announced by Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg.

Vicar Outshines London's Great Steeplejacks

LONDON — "I do declare," said the grocer's wife, "isn't that the vicar way up there at the very tip of the church steeple?"

And sure enough it was. The Rev. Albert George Morris was up there, wearing his clerical collar, and tinkering with the weather vane 120 feet above the pavement in the Brixton Hill District of London. He gave it a couple of twists for fun, and then a smart breeze made it point due east.

A professional steeplejack watched nervously.

The church, All Saints, has been repaired after war damage.

"The very last thing which remained to be done was to make the weather vane spin," said the Rev. Morris, 38. "I felt so happy about it that I thought it fitting to put on the finishing touch myself."

"And the steeplejack needn't have worried. Shucks, I made a practice climb yesterday when no one was looking."

Bethlehem Boy Still Critical

A 14-YEAR-OLD Bethlehem boy was still in "critical" condition last night at General Hospital for the seventh day.

He was Douglas Knecht, rescued from drowning Monday, June 21 near Delaware, N. J. The Knecht boy suffered three fractured neck vertebrae in the near-drowning incident.

Hospital officials said there was "no change" in his condition whatever.

World Can Triumph Over Aggressive Atheism Thru Christ, Speaker Says

THE FREE WORLD can triumph over aggressive atheism by living the teachings of Christ Jesus more honestly, Robert S. Van Atta of Rochester, New York, told an audience in First Church of Christ Scientist here yesterday.

Spiritual understanding of God, and man's relation to Him—put into daily practice—is "the world's hope for freedom from uncertainty, terror, and ignorance," Mr. Van Atta said. The impact of such understanding on world thinking should never be underestimated, he added.

Currently on an extended tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lecturship, Mr. Van Atta spoke under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist in Stroudsburg. The lecturer, who was introduced by Mrs. Hazel Seaman, Second Reader, spoke on "Christian Science: Its Triumph Over Atheism and Idolatry."

"THE RULE for protection from all danger and the remedy for every evil situation have been available to the world for many centuries through the inspired Word of the Bible, and particularly through the teachings and example of Christ Jesus," Mr. Van Atta declared.

The Master, he said, "proved the practical power of spiritual understanding in overcoming every type of human trouble—sin, danger, disease, and even death itself." The lecturer explained that Christian Scientists today are learning progressively how to apply the laws of God to bring actual harmony to human affairs, in the manner taught by Christ Jesus.

A practical knowledge of God's healing power is vital today, Mr. Van Atta continued, in view of the world-wide challenge of aggressive atheism "presenting itself as a philosophy or teaching suitable as a foundation for government and society, and organized to propagate itself and destroy religion."

ENCOURAGING his audience to make fuller use of prayer, the lecturer emphasized that there were many ways to pray. Among examples cited were the following: "Obedience to God's revealed requirements is prayer; the struggle to be and do good is prayer; the practice of humility, the striving for holiness, the abiding steadfast in hope and faith in God, patient improvement of our present talents, continued service to divine Love—these are all forms of true prayer because they all bring us closer to God." That prayer which is really effective must include inspiration and an honest expectancy of good, he declared.

Prayer based on that spiritual understanding of God which Christ Jesus taught has enabled man to "know and obey the will of God and so to heal sickness and sin, to dispel poverty and grief, to protect from danger," and to live full, joyous lives, he said.

MANKIND'S freedom from uncertainty, terror, and ignorance, he declared hinges upon the effort of individuals everywhere to gain an increased understanding of scientific prayer, and to apply it in daily living.

Summer-Formula Gulf No-Nox
The Gasoline with Evaporation Control!

Remember: the part of any gasoline that evaporates first is extra-high octane... a part you need for smooth, thrifty performance in modern engines. Guard that vital power part—get Summer-Formula Gulf NO-NOX... specially made to resist evaporation.

Hill-Test PROOF

All gasolines seem pretty much the same, when the going is easy—but just notice the difference this hill test reveals!

As shown to millions on TV (on Gulf's popular "Life of Riley" show), the twin test cars in this demonstration were expertly tuned—one for best performance on Summer-Formula Gulf NO-NOX; the other for best possible performance on a regular grade of gasoline.

They hit the starting line at the same speed, and then—at full throttle—started up this steep grade. The speedometer pictures give you the results at a glance.

Acceleration PROOF

This dramatic picture—shot from a helicopter—shows again how much extra safety you get with Summer-Formula Gulf NO-NOX.

As in the hill test, both cars were tuned to get maximum performance from their fuels. One car was tuned for Summer-Formula Gulf NO-NOX, the other for a regular grade of gasoline. Both cars hit the starting line at the same speed, then—full throttle! Same make of car—same engine—but what a difference Gulf NO-NOX made!

Bypass Would Provide "Some Relief" Commissioner Says

Federal Road Authority Writes Walter

INFORMATION given to Rep. Francis E. Walter by Federal Commissioner of Public Roads F. J. V. duPont indicates that further study of Stroudsburg traffic conditions will be needed before any bypass work is included in a Federal-aid program.

Commissioner duPont's statement was made in reply to a resolution from Stroudsburg Business Men's Association. The resolution was given to duPont by Rep. Walter.

The SRMA resolution suggests that a bypass be provided to carry U. S. Route 611 around and entirely outside the borough. In his reply to Walter, duPont said:

"THE STATE has recently entered into an agreement with a firm of consulting engineers for the study of an alternate location of U. S. 611 in Stroudsburg."

According to the duPont letter, "the study is to begin near" the foot of Foxtown Hill (Route 90) and extend northwesterly to a point near Scott St., a distance of approximately 1.2 miles.

"The location being studied would provide some relief for the congestion at Seventh and Main Sts.," the Federal roads commissioner continues.

"IT WOULD NOT, however, remove the route entirely from the city as advocated by some," he said.

"It is expected that additional study will be given to various possible locations for a bypass before any work is included in a Federal-aid program," duPont declared.

"Under controlling legislation the State... makes surveys, prepares the plans, acquires the right-of-way and supervises the construction of Federal-aid improvements," duPont said.

EACH OF THESE steps is subject to Federal approval, however, the roads commissioner pointed out, before Federal aid is given.

Since 611 is a Federal route, final say-so on whether the route could be reconstructed and relocated would lie with the U. S. roads commission.

Primary reason for Federal concern with the Route, over and above the normal study given any re-routing of Federal-aid roads, would stem from the fact that Route 611 serves as the major highway outlet for the U. S. Signal Corps Depot at Tobyhanna.

LOCALLY OPPOSITION to the Ninth-and-Main St. bypass plan has been expressed by a dozen organizations directly connected with the welfare of the community.

The Ninth-and-Main St. bypass is favored by State Secretary of Highways E. L. Schmidt, speaking on behalf of the Fine administration.

Opposition to the plan has been expressed by The Pocono Mountains Automobile Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the Vacation Bureau, the Top of the Pocono Resort Association, Stroudsburg Business Men's Association, councils of both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg, Monroe County Manufacturers Association, the Pocono Real Estate Board and the Eastern Poconos Association.

Traffic Resumed On Rock Island's Battered Roadbed

HALLAM, NEB. (AP) — Rail traffic was resumed yesterday along the stretch of track near here which was torn up by the derailment of the Rock Island Railroad's Rocky Mountain Rocket.

Sightseers poured into the area as railroad crews continued their job of removing the coaches and sleeping cars still standing askew along the right-of-way.

Tracks themselves had been repaired and the first train through, about midnight last night, was eastbound No. 8, the same passenger train that derailed.

Of about 75 persons injured in the wreck, 56 remained hospitalized at Lincoln, Beatrice and Crete today, a survey showed. No fatalities have been recorded and several patients were to be dismissed.

Fingerling Brook Trout Are Stocked

FORTY CANS of fingerling trout will be available at the State Highway Shed near Wigwam Park at 11 am Tuesday for anyone who wishes to stock a small tributary stream, Pocono Mountains Sportsmans Association said yesterday.

The State-hatched fish must be placed in public streams, the association said, and cannot be put in posted water.

The average U.S. worker is absent 7 1/2 days a year because of temporary illness.

Strong Winds Break Up Hottest Day Of Season

STRONG WINDS with gusts up to 45 miles per hour brought cooler temperatures to Monroe County yesterday on the heels of the most humid—and "hottest"—day of the year.

Official wind measurements at Mount Pocono showed winds averaged "between 36 and 42 miles per hour" throughout the day.

The winds rose rapidly from a morning breeze measuring 13 miles per hour to the peak of 42 around 2 p.m.

AT 7 P. M. wind measured 36 miles per hour at the Mount Pocono observation post maintained by Harry Greene, official U. S. observer.

Humidity turned Saturday's moderate heat (82 degrees at Mount Pocono and 95 degrees in Stroudsburg) into the most uncomfortably hot day of the summer.

According to Greene, humidity measured more than 80 per cent.

IN STROUDSBURG yesterday weather observer Pierre Lake said the high for the day was 85 Sunday.

Low for the preceding 24-hour period was 69 degrees, Lake said. Temperature was 78 at 8 a.m. yesterday and 67 at 9 last night, Lake reported.

ALTHOUGH storm clouds rumbled in the skies Saturday night the expected "thunderstorms" brought no rain to Monroe County's parched pastures and fields.

Only measurable rain in the county fell at Mount Pocono. There was only a "trace" there.

Two Youths Killed In Pole Crash

LANCASTER, PA. (AP) — Lewis Smith, Jr., 20, and William Boas, 15, both of Lancaster, were killed when their car crashed into a pole on the Lincoln Highway nearby.

Four other persons, all from Lancaster, were injured. Police said the driver was Ralph Bowers, Jr., 17, one of the injured.

Retailers To Be Audited For Sales Tax

HARRISBURG (AP) — An audit of the books of some 5,000 Pennsylvania retailers will begin today by order of the Sales Tax Bureau head.

Joseph C. Snyder said the audit will be conducted by 285 state accountants on books of retailers who are paying less tax than was expected of the sales levy.

The check is a method of bringing about a more strict enforcement of the one cent sales tax levy, expected to bring in 135 million dollars in 20 months.

IN THE FIRST eight months, however, the tax yielded $20,000, 600 less than expected.

Snyder said the stores to be checked were chosen by a series of tabulating machine tests.

The 5,000 below average stores, Snyder said, were found in a sampling of only 20,000 stores.

There are still 148,000 others to be checked to determine how their payments conform to the average.

Assistance Recipients Get More Money Than Required For Base Living Standard

HARRISBURG (AP) — A bi-monthly report of the Public Assistance Department shows assistance recipients in most instances are given more money than is required for a minimum living standard.

A monthly grant of $23.20 is made for food to individuals on state assistance rolls as compared with $21.60 required to maintain the minimum living standard set by the department.

The U. S. Agriculture Department outlined a minimum diet which when priced in five localities throughout the state averaged out to the $21.60.

AN AVERAGE family of four—a mother and three children of school age—requires $69.80 a month to eat at the minimum standard.

The department has a $74.40 allocation for such families.

The report for May and June noted that clothing allowances in the state are slightly below the average figure arrived at through a pricing of articles in mail order catalogs.

For the four-person family, the monthly clothing cost was set at $24.70.

The department allows $20.

A PERSON living alone receives $5.00 with the cost set at $4.00.

The family unit is given a maximum of $29.20 for monthly rent as compared with the average cost of $24.10, and the individual receives a maximum of $19.40 with the cost set at $17.70.

The maximum rent figure, excludes about 5 per cent of the highest rents paid by assistance recipients.

RENT VARIES so greatly from county to county, that what is actually paid is considered the cost and for that reason allowances are somewhat above average costs.

The family of four is given $8.00 monthly for incidentals which the department figures cost an average of $14.90. Singles receive $3.00 with cost set at $5.40.

Incidentals include household maintenance, cleaning supplies and items of personal care.

Elementary Workshop Opens Here

THE FIFTH seminar workshop in elementary education opens today at State Teachers College.

Dr. Nathan G. Meyer, director of student teaching and placement, is coordinator of the session. Marie C. Brown, and Josephine H. Kerns are instructors and consultants.

The three-week workshop opens this morning at 8:30 with registration. An estimated 25 persons are expected to enroll for the series, Meyer said.

INCLUDED during the seminar sessions will be an educational trip to New York City where workshop students will attend the National Education Association convention on July 2 and visit the United Nations.

An art workshop on Thursday, July 8 is also slated as part of the series.

Books from 22 publishers will be on display in the campus laboratory school library from July 6 through July 9, Dr. Meyer said.

The public is invited to visit the book displays, he announced.

Poor Swimmer Loses Life In Brattleboro, Vt.

BRATTLEBORO, VT. (AP) — A Lancaster, Pa. man, Clyde S. Landis, 21, drowned in West River.

Three companions said Landis, a poor swimmer, leaped from a boat about 350 yards from shore, apparently not realizing the water was 10 feet deep at the point.

The three pulled him into the boat but were unable to apply artificial respiration because of water covering the bottom of the craft. Landis was an attendant at the Brattleboro Retreat.

Slow Down And Live!

Death hit Monroe County's highways again over the weekend in a traffic accident which brought another near death and maimed others.

Police are still checking thoroughly every facet of the tragedy, but sticking out like a sore thumb is the very apt slogan of a nation-wide campaign among state enforcement officers:

"Slow down and live!"

Year after year the National Safety Council studies details of all accidents. Year after year it is the same old story:

Speed contributes to one out of three fatal traffic accidents.

There's a big Fourth of July holiday week-end coming up. With it comes an intensive campaign on the part of 160 major safety organizations and every known media, including newspapers, for reaching the public to sell that campaign.

It is an effort to increase public awareness of the extra hazards and the extra caution needed to overcome them. Officials, traffic officers and safety leaders are bending every effort to reduce traffic accidents—not only on big holiday weekends, but every day.

There are all sorts of things any motorist can do, but the most important is to cut speed about ten miles an hour, get an early start and arrive safely.

It is a matter of obeying both the legal and common sense speed limits.

Slow Down And Live!

A New 'Dream Road'

The scene in neighboring New York State was reminiscent of ceremonies in Pennsylvania 14 years ago, when the original Turnpike first was opened to public travel. The first 115-mile stretch of the New York State Thruway was opened last week with great fanfare.

When it is completed next year, the 427-mile Thruway will span the Empire State from New York City to Buffalo. Connecting links will be added, one of them joining up with an addition to our own "Dream Highway" in Northwestern Pennsylvania.

The Superhighway is an old story to all of us here in Pennsylvania.

But new chapters are being added to the story all the time. It won't be long before we can drive out onto the Turnpike the western region of Monroe County, make a "great circle" swing through the neighboring Northeastern states, and return home without ever leaving an expressway.

This is of key importance to us whether we are private drivers on a pleasure trip or traveling to transact business.

The Reds' Red Apple

One of the newest inventions of the Reds is a dehydrated red apple.

Radio Moscow told of this new discovery: "We have before us a beautiful apple. We take it in our hands and to our great surprise it hardly weighs anything, for all its liquid content has been extracted."

It's easy to go along with the Reds up to this point. It is indisputable that the Reds are past masters at squeezing anything so dry that only a shell remains.

PENSION FOR HISS

Hold onto your hats! Washington agencies are holding that nothing

Alger Hiss did to his country impairs his rights to a pension from that country!

The Civil Service Commission and the Budget Bureau have both taken the attitude

that, regardless of what Hiss did, his pension is a "contractual right" and that when he comes out of the housework Uncle Sam must come across with a monthly check. This is a screwball age and anything can happen, but payment of a pension by any government to a man who seemed to be doing his bit to destroy that government seems a new height in daffiness.

The pension obligation between a government and a worker is the same as any contract between any two citizens, the Washington Bureaus hold. This is like saying that it is not only okay to shoot Santa but that you get a guarantee your stocking will be filled. Or holding that when Bill Jones burns down the button shop he retains his pension rights from the button shop owner. Yet suggest that if the Washington ruling is not knocked sky-high by Congressional action, Alger get his pension check with suitable ceremonial, the presentation being made by the Anything-Goes-Club-of-America and the World-League-for-Breeding-Kingsize Cooks. Suggested program:

1. Arrival of Alger in the old auto. Salute by a prothonotary warbler. Songs by Bird Watchers.

2. Musical number by the "We've With You At The Drop of a Hat Quartette" from the ever-ready legal defenders of Reds and Pinkies.

3. Exercises in Astonishment by Whittaker Chambers.

4. Decorated floats including (1) Lady Bountiful Being Slugged by a Beneficiary But Asking What He Wants for His Birthday; (2) Uncle Sam Having Pockets Picked and Liking It; (3) Miss Liberty, All Bent Up, but Throwing Kisses to Her Assassins; (4) Kris Kringle coming Down the Chimney of the Little Boy Who Plugged It Up and Wrote "Nuts to Santa" across the rooftop; (5) Benedict Arnold

TOO FAST TO CHANGE THE OWNERSHIP!

Mrs. Jackie Gleason got her separation allowance in a court proceeding lasting only 5 minutes.

It was an extra fast routine in which the court evidently opened and closed with "Away We Go!" Judge William C. Hecht, Jr., granted the wife something like $5,000 per week for herself and the children.

It seemed to us that he was in a better position for a telecast than the Senate Subcommittee, but he suffered from a small cast, only Mrs. Gleason and a couple of lawyers showing up.

Never did we think $5,000 a week could seem so lacking in entertainment value. Variety and Billboard covered it only casually and not a TV photographer got into the act.

Nobody took a bow "as the flower of the musical world" and by general agreement the line "One of these days..." was barred.

How to collect the 5 per cent tax on theater tickets bought and paid for months before the law was passed is baffling to theater men.

How about a loudspeaker crying, "You wouldn't cheat a producer, would you?" Or lobby signs reading, "Wagner is Watching You." "There's No Business Like Dough Business" and "The Tax Must Go On?"

The American Medical Association Convention, which received that cigarette verdict, met in a smoke-filled room.

And there is a story that just before reading it the professor asked, "Anybody got a cigarette?"

Eddie Cantor has signed a $9,000,000 contract to act, produce and direct TV shows.

It's a salary like this that makes a man's eyes pop.

HIS MOVE!

Robert S. Allen Reports

Democrats Have Votes To Add Still More Tax Cuts

President Eisenhower will have to go to bat personally to stop the Senate Democrats from adding still more cuts in the big tax revision bill.

They just about have the votes to do that.

Republican leaders have advised the President to send a personal letter to the Senate warning that additional tax cuts would greatly increase the potential federal deficit and wipe out all hope of balancing the budget by 1956.

Also, Wyoming's Republican Governor C. J. Rogers is being urged to rush the appointment of a GOP successor to the late Democratic Senator Lester Hunt.

Down to Cases—A significant Senate decision preceded President Eisenhower's blunt talk before the National Editorial Association that the U. S. must either trade with Japan or the "Pacific would become a Communist lake."

At a meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Senator Homer Capehart (R., Ind.), chairman of the Banking Committee, voiced exactly the same views as the President. Secretary of State Dulles was frankly surprised and elated by this unexpected support.

He was conferring with the Committee on developments at the Geneva Conference when Capehart raised the problem of foreign trade.

"I think the time has come," the Indian said, "when we could well take another look at the whole matter of more trade with our allies..."

The cold war is going on for many, many years, and foreign trade is a vital part of this struggle. We are going to have to be a lot more practical and realistic about it."

"It is a great pleasure to hear you say that," replied Dulles. "You have put your finger on what is the most difficult aspect of our foreign relations right now."

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

George M. Cohan was quite a practical joker in his day.

The late Joe Laurie recalled the time Cohan and Willie Collier staged a mock two-handed game of cutting cards for "a $1,000 a throw."

Just to impress their friend Louis Mann, who was always a very careful man with a buck. While Mann grew more and more bug-eyed, Collier ran his "profits" up to three hundred thousand dollars, not to mention Cohan's theatres, country home, and life insurance policies.

Mann was about to faint when Collier gave away the joke by proposing to Cohan, "Now I'll cut you two out of three for your partner, Sam Harris."

"I had a date with a real nifty stranger last night," a young lady confided to her chum. "Where did he hail from?" asked the chum. The answer was, "From the best looking convertible this town has seen in three years!"

International Labor Defense Pamphlet Tells Commies How To Act Under Arrest

The FBI came in for an unusual amount of unfortunate advertising during the recent televised show in Washington. Fortunately it survived its detractors and defenders without damage, but one who has observed tendencies moving toward a goal could not help wondering whether an attempt was not being made to try the FBI instead of Senator McCarthy and Roy Cohn.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that the International Labor Defense once issued a pamphlet entitled "Under Arrest," designed to instruct Communists and fellow-travelers how to act when questioned and tried. The forward states:

"This pamphlet is being issued in order to better prepare our whole organization to give leadership to workers on what to do when arrested and questioned, and how to defend themselves in the courts of capitalist justice. It is not sufficient, however, merely to ask workers to read this material, depending upon them to be able to carry out successfully its directions on their own initiative. A broad education must be organized on the basis of this pamphlet. Classes of leading workers in the International Labor Defense (I.L.D.) must be organized for the careful study of this material under the leadership of capable comrades. Efforts must be made to draw in sympathetic lawyers who will volunteer their services for this purpose..."

First of all, the warning is issued that the courts are not to be trusted. The pamphlet says:

The 'dignity' and 'sanctity' of the courts are a means of paralyzing the struggle of the workers against capitalist institutions. It is not an accident that court procedure is conducted in a language and method not understandable to the average worker. It is not an accident that court procedure is clothed with all sorts of pompous ceremonies..."

The police, state troopers or Federal agents (FBI) are not to be trusted because they are servants of the boss class. "He is your enemy. Give him no information, of any kind whatsoever, either about yourself or your fellow workers, or any organization you belong to..." The pamphlet advises that nothing more than a name is to be given. "Give your name only." "Give your name. That is all."

These instructions have been followed more or less in most Communist cases, the witness either pleading the Fifth or the First Amendment without legal discrimination, to avoid answering questions. The pattern is so uniform that it is impossible to believe that its repetition is not in pursuance of the instructions issued in this pamphlet or by some other means.

One of the most characteristic statements in this International Labor Defense pamphlet comes under the heading: "Make the Court Your Forum." This instructs the arrested person to use every means to explain the class struggle nature of the charge. In the trial of the Communist Eleven before Judge Harold E. Medina, this procedure was followed not only by those on trial but by their counsel until the courtroom became an unruly mass meeting, the judge suffering every indignity to avoid giving cause for a plea of a mistrial. It has also been used before Congressional committees with rare skill.

The witness is instructed never to admit that he believes in the overthrow of government by force and violence, but to enter into an argument on dialectical materialism—which presumably it is hoped neither the judge nor jury will understand. The witness is instructed time and again to avoid answering questions about his party affiliations. Finally this is stated:

"If you are questioned concerning party or union membership, or the character of any organization, you should be guided by your organization's instructions."

These carefully worked out instructions are important because they are being followed closely. In fact, the pattern of replies almost describes the character of the witness. In some of the hearings before Congressional committees, all the witnesses give identical answers no matter what questions are asked. One witness simply shouted, "Fifth!" to every question no matter whether the reply would or could result in self-incrimination. It was an astonishing performance. The blueprint for such conduct will be found in this pamphlet.

On Broadway

—by Walter Winchell

Broadway Valentines
The profound eloquence of classic romantic verse suggests the glory-touched summits of Paradise. Broadway minstrels, however, are more sentimental than intellectual. They often express love in terms of blue skies and stars—with silly jingles echoed around the world. Sometimes the exalted passion becomes mawkish or commercial. But the magical emotion has been a recurring theme in the Grand Canyon of music and legends. It is frequently just a he in a coliseum or a headline. Obviously, it is always fascinating.

The Fanny Brice-Nick Aronstein love story was in the grand romantic tradition: Supreme devotion despite extreme adversity. Throughout their marriage, Aronstein had difficulties with the law. The show biz queen remained loyal to the gambler and con man. There were headlines and heartbreak. But Fanny carried her love like a banner through the storms. This was the glory and absurdity of love—the heart's conquest of logic. Friends were puzzled and distressed by Fanny's seemingly foolish devotion to Aronstein. One earnestly inquired: "How can you love a man like that?"

Fanny explained simply: "With my heart."
After the years of despair had withered their bond, Fanny and Nick were divorced. Shortly before she passed, Aronstein visited the star. He meekly pleaded: "Couldn't we make a go of it again, Fanny? Believe me, I'm a different man." "Maybe you're a different man," Fanny sighed. "But I'm a different woman. Goodbye, Nick."

The capricious quality of love generally transcends reasoning powers. It strikes like lightning—and the thunder may last a lifetime... When Mary Martin was one of Hollywood's prize chattels, she posed for publicity shots with a bear. Mr. Grizzly became rambunctious and almost hugged Mary to death before she was rescued. The incident was relayed to a studio exec who jeered: "Mary Martin will do anything for publicity. She hasn't any talent."

Strangely, Mary was not indignant when informed of the harsh rebuke. She vowed to win his friendship. Mary also won his heart. Several months later they were married.

Tallulah Bankhead has been riding a rocket for many years. Even her bursts of romantic activity have the explosive flash of roman candles... Some years ago, she fell in love with actor John Emery during the first week of her show's rehearsals. Her expression of passion was both vigorous and swift. Emery later described the incident with romantic charm: "She grabbed me, kissed me and almost knocked my tonsils down my throat." Their marriage had a firecracker quality: Noisy and fiery.

They parted friends. Emery's description of their marriage has become a Broadway classic: "It was like the rise, decline and fall of the Roman Empire."

The prodigious energy essential to success in the greasepaint realm and the intense competition frequently represent insurmountable obstacles for wedded bliss. There are numerous exceptions, of course... One has been the happiness shared by Helen Hayes and Charles MacArthur for so many wonderful years. Shortly after they merged, Charles warned Helen: "You'll have more downs than ups. But you'll like the ups." The ups apparently outnumbered downs for they lived happily ever after.

Deborah Kerr won a battle and conquered a soldier during World War II. He was Tony Bartley, an RAF hero... Before proposing to Deborah, he called on Sir Laurence Olivier for counsel. He feared that Sir Charles and Lady Bartley would oppose his marriage to an actress.

Sir Laurence's counsel was candid, a nag recently reported. He declared: "Don't worry about what your family will think. She's a good actress. She is also unreasonably chaste."

And so they were married.

Midas would have envied Oscar Hammerstein's fabulous monetary accomplishments. Oscar, however, considered himself a financial success long before composing his initial click. After obtaining a job as an assistant stage manager, Hammerstein was convinced he was successful enough to support a wife. They were married and lived on his lavish weekly salary—$20.

Broadway romances have the strangest obstacles. Rivalry was rife between Ziegfeld and Charles Frohman when Billie Burke (under contract to Frohman) became Mrs. Ziegfeld. Frohman's retaliation was swift and drastic. He punished the lovely Billie by forcing her to go on 72 straight one-night stands.

Ziggy was a generous husband, albeit not always a faithful one. Billie Burke was incredibly understanding. After the showman passed, she stated: "They were beautiful women, no man could be blamed for loving them, and I certainly bear them no grudge now."

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

It is unfortunate that so many people who write me letters full of good ideas, ask me not to mention their names or use their thoughts because they "have a very limited education" and don't want to make themselves the laughing stock of their community.

These people are wrong. Here is their one opportunity to be of service to their fellowmen and to raise their heads above the multitude, yet they are afraid of ridicule.

What is wrong with ideas? What is wrong with having the courage of your convictions and exposing them to the world? Have not all great ideas come out of people's brains? Who knows, today, how much of an education Homer, Cleo, Socrates, Plato had?

How much is known of Shakespeare's education or Beethoven's or Keats'?

We know that Robert Burns, the poet, had very little formal education. He got most of his "learning" from his father, a former gardener and small nurseryman on the banks of the Doon in Ayrshire.

Supposing Robert Burns had felt that he did not have enough of an education to give his fellow citizens the benefit of his genius. Supposing Shakespeare had felt a compunction to hide his talent from the world because he had not got a college degree.

Supposing Homer, taking it for granted that he had not had much of a book education had felt too bashful to write the Iliad or the Odyssey, (I admit that thousands of high school students might have been very glad, but the world surely would have lost a lot.)

Lt. Gabriel A. Vetare Is Wedded To Betty Caesar

Miss Betty Caesar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Caesar, of 115 S. Robinson Ave., Pen Argyl, was married Saturday afternoon to Lt. Gabriel A. Vetare, US MC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vetare, of Brewster, N. Y.

Rev. James P. Gallagher performed the ceremony in St. Rock's Catholic Church, West Bangor. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. John Williams, organist, the soloist being Frank Vetare, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length gown of white organza with a train of white tulle and a cascade of white tulle over her shoulders. Her fingertip veil was attached to a crown trimmed with rhinestones and pearls. She carried white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Loretta Caesar, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor and Miss Bernice Caesar, of Wind Gap, cousin of the bride, and Miss Kathryn Verona, of Pen Argyl, were the bridesmaids.

The maid-of-honor wore a ballerina length gown of pastel mauve nylon chiffon and matching headpiece and carried a cascade bouquet of a yellow orchid with lavender carnations. The bridesmaids were similarly attired in lavender gowns and headpieces and carried cascade bouquets with a lavender orchid with yellow carnations.

Ferdinand Vetare, of Brewster, N. Y., was his brother's best man, Richard Vetare, brother of the bridegroom, and Henry Catino, of West Bangor, cousin of the bride, were the ushers.

After a reception at the Leigh Valley Club, Allentown, the couple left on a trip to Maine. They will reside in Washington, D. C.

Miss Caesar is a graduate of Pen Argyl High School and attended Syracuse University and was graduated from William Smith College, Geneva, N. Y.

Lt. Vetare was graduated from Brewster, N. Y., High School and Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y., where he became a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. He will attend the Armed Forces Intelligence School, Washington, D. C., for the next three months.

Pin And Needle Name Adopted For 4-H Club

The 4-H club of Snyder'sville held their meeting on Thursday, June 24, at the home of Mrs. Archie Heller. At this time the suggestion of the committee appointed to select a name for the group recommended Pin and Needle which was adopted.

At each meeting three girls are appointed to demonstrate things they have done between meetings. Those named to perform this duty at this week's meeting are Beverly Bond, Linda Kresge and Sidney Jean Heller.

The next meeting will be held Thursday morning, July 1, at the home of Mrs. Russell Bond.

Six new members have been accepted by the club: Reta and Helen Pfaffinger, Jenny Schaefer, Bernada Neyhart, Susan Stulgaitis and Sandra Haney.

Those present at the meeting were: Linda Kresge, Shirley LaBar, Rosemary Schuler, Sidney Jean Heller, Beverly Bond, Miss Margaret MacLaren, who is in charge; Mrs. Archie Heller and Mrs. Russell Bond. Mothers attending also included Mrs. Pfaffinger and Mrs. Stulgaitis.

Fidelia Class Covered Dish

The Fidelia class of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church school will hold a covered dish supper at the Stroudsburg playground tonight at 6:30. Members and their families are invited to attend. In case of rain, the supper will be held at the social rooms of the church.

You can tell the difference between floor polishes by their smell. The buffing-type of wax smells like naphtha; a self-polishing wax usually has little odor.

Levergoods Given Real Welcome

Neola — The members of the five churches of the Cherry Valley Methodist charge gathered Wednesday night, June 23, at the Neola church to welcome Rev. and Mrs. C. Clyde Levergood back to the pastorate.

A prayer service preceded the reception when members of the Neola church were in charge of the program with Mrs. Mary Voige announcing. Their choir also sang.

Henry Wells was master of ceremonies and presented Mrs. Levergood with a corsage. Popular Valley church paid tribute with a solo by Mrs. Roger Mansfield and a duet by Mrs. Elwood Fenner and Mrs. Glenn Reich. Cherry Valley responded with recitations by Mrs. Gertrude Munn and a duet by Miss Joan Armitage and Miss Verna Blakeslee. St. Luke's children's choir also sang.

William Lesh, historian of Kellersville, in his address, spoke of former customs of the church. One fact he brought out was that of the 70 pastors the charge has had, Rev. Levergood has served the greatest number of years.

Refreshments were served in the church social room following the program. A "pound" party was presented the Levergoods as a matter of affection.

Busy Meeting Of Paradise Woman's Society

Paradise — The June meeting of the Paradise Women's Society was held in the Sunday School room at Keokee Chapel recently. Following the opening hymn, devotions were in charge of the president, Mrs. Paul Barry, who presided over the meeting.

Secretary of Missionary Education, Mrs. Martha Henry, read the Scripture lesson, after which minutes were read by the secretary, Miss Lulu Henry and approved.

Following considerable discussion, it was agreed that it would be impossible to accept the invitation of the Saylorburg group to meet with them in July, due to meetings being held at Keokee at the same time.

Discussion was held on the first two chapters of the book, "Christ Calls to World-Wide Witnessing," and the next two chapters were assigned for July. All members were advised to be prepared to renew their subscriptions to the "World Evangelist" at the next meeting.

Mrs. C. F. Spangenberg, treasurer was authorized to send in the offering for the continent fund and the regular monthly offering.

Secretary of Christian Social Relations, Mrs. Walter Lindstedt, gave a brief talk on "Crusade For Children."

Mrs. C. F. Spangenberg, in the absence of the program chairman, Mrs. Richard Post, then presented the program on the theme "All Thy Children Shall Be Taught," with the emphasis on the Evangelical United Brethren Mission in New Mexico. The program was illustrated with maps and pictures and showing the great difficulty in establishing the Mission field there.

A letter was read by the president from the new district leader, Mrs. Foster Leihenguth, of Palmerton. The next meeting will be held in Pocono Union Church on July 22.

Following adjournment, refreshments of home made ice cream, fruit punch, cookies and pretzels were served by the hostess, Miss Lulu Henry.

Those present were: Mrs. C. F. Spangenberg, Mrs. Walter Lindstedt, Mrs. Martha Henry, Mrs. Laura Goll, Miss Winnie Goll, Mrs. George Koerner, Mrs. Stewart Bush, Mrs. S. S. Sicker, Mrs. Paul Barry and the hostess, Miss Lulu Henry.

Poplar Valley Children's Day Exercises Held

Children's Day exercises were held in the Poplar Valley church on Sunday, June 20. Mrs. Paul Albert had arranged the program which consisted of recitations and songs, some of which honored Father's Day as well. Mrs. Orien Reich accompanied the singing.

Solos were sung by Susan Brewer, Billy Cyphers, Joan Werkheiser, and Philip Brewer. Heard in recitations were Susan and Marilyn Benkeris, Linda and Gertrude Dennis, Buddy and Brian Reich, Kathy, Jean and Sally Dennis, Lawrence and Bruce Reich.

Nancy Dennis and Peggy Carson sang a duet and the choir presented a special Father's Day song. The women of the church also sang a selection. Shirley Welter read the scripture and Joan Reich made the announcements.

And of course, since it was the most recent of their memories, the description of the Campbell's new church in York.

Mixed in with their sleepy yawns were bright bits of description — the former President's yacht steaming into Annapolis, the military funeral at Arlington Cemetery, the iron grillwork and a jam session in Charleston, the wonders of Marine-land.

Mrs. Charles K. Hildenbrand

Nancy Houck, Hildenbrand Nuptials

Miss Nancy Lou Houck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Houck, of Ackermanville, became the bride of Gerald Kenneth Hildenbrand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Hildenbrand, of Bangor RD3, at Forks Evangelical Reformed Church Saturday afternoon.

The ceremony was performed at 4 p.m. by Rev. Dr. Floyd R. Shafer, pastor. Church decorations consisted of palms and roses. Nuptial music was furnished by Harry W. Lichtenwalter, soloist was Mrs. William Metzgar, who was heard in the numbers, "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The maid-of-honor was Miss LaRue Clewell, of Pen Argyl RD 1, cousin of the bride. The bridesmaids were the Misses Carolyn Clewell, Pen Argyl RD1, and Ruth Ann Frutcher, of Mt. Bethel RD1, cousins of the bride, and Marion Jacob, of Bangor RD 1.

Junior bridesmaids were Miss Judy Houck, sister of the bride, and Miss Elda Mae Hildenbrand, sister of the bridegroom. Flower girls were Phyllis Kay Teel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Teel, of Wind Gap RD1, and Rory Ann Messenger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Messenger Jr., of Mt. Bethel RD1, also cousins of the bride.

Sherwood Kessler, of Nazareth RD 1, was best man. Ushers were Anthony Martocci and Frederick Policelli, of Roseto, and Sherwood Kneebone, of Bangor. Ring bearer was Richard Houck, the bride's brother.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of lace and net over tulle, fitted bodice and ruffled net skirt. Her headpiece fell from a floral headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white roses with an orchid and streamers of lilies of the valley.

The maid-of-honor chose a strapless gown of orchid net over tulle. The bridesmaids were similarly gowned in Nile green, yellow, pale pink, deep pink and blue. The flower girls wore white net dresses over tulle and carried baskets of mixed flowers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Belfast Sportsman's Club where the decorations consisted of vases of roses.

The newlyweds left later on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and the New England states. On their return, they will reside with the bridegroom's parents.

The bride attended Bangor High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of Bangor High School, is attending Lafayette College. He is a part-time employee of the A&P store in Bangor.

Patricia Dawe Is Wedded To E. R. Miller

The First Presbyterian Church, Pen Argyl, was the scene of the early summer wedding of Miss Patricia Ann Dawe, daughter of Mrs. Nelson Dawe, of 103 Robinson Ave., that place, and the late Mr. Dawe, and Elwin Raymond Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Miller, of Bangor RD 3.

The nuptials were held at 2 p.m. Saturday, Rev. R. W. Musselman, the pastor of the church, officiating. White flowers formed the church decorations. Suitable music was furnished by Mrs. Freeman Bethman, organist, while Mr. Bethman was soloist, singing "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Nelson Dawe, of Bangor. She wore a floor length Chantilly lace gown with long pointed sleeves and Queen Anne collar, three tier skirt and satin and net underskirts. Her fingertip veil was attached to a tiara. She carried a bouquet of five baby orchids.

Miss Alice Mann, of Pen Argyl, was maid-of-honor. She wore a mint green net dress with full skirt, floor length, and matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of pink daisies and pompons.

The bridesmaids, Miss Kathryn Greaves and Miss Gail Swoyer, both of Pen Argyl, were attired in pink dresses in the styles of the maid-of-honor's gown and also carried the same type bouquets.

The best man was Carl Sward, of Bangor, while the ushers were Wendell Miller, Bangor RD 3, brother of the bridegroom, and Paul Henshue, of Wind Gap, the bridegroom's brother-in-law.

The reception which followed the ceremony was held at the Pen Argyl National Bank hall where suitable decorations in white had been arranged.

Mrs. Miller is a graduate of Pen Argyl High School and attended Churchman's Business College, Easton. She is employed at the plant of the Blue Valley Sportswear Co., Pen Argyl. Mr. Miller was graduated from Bangor High School and is serving in the U. S. Navy, stationed at Camp Springs, Florida.

Mrs. Miller will reside at her mother's home while her husband is in the service.

Miss Anderson Becomes Bride Of N. Hummel

Miss Shirley Lorraine Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anderson, of Columbia, N. J., RD, and Norman L. Hummel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hummel, of Bangor RD2, were married Saturday, June 19, at the bride's home. Rev. Wilbur J. Thush, pastor of the Delaware Presbyterian Church, officiated.

Mrs. Ruth Frying furnished the wedding music and Mrs. James VanKirk was soloist. The decorations consisted of rosebuds, gladioli and other garden flowers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length dress of imported French net over tulle with a rhinestone studded net bodice. Hers was a shoulder length veil of imported net held in place by a tiara of roses. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

The matron-of-honor was Mrs. Raymond Jagers Jr., sister of the bridegroom. She wore a ballerina length gown of aqua net over tulle and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations. Best man was Robert Anderson, brother of the bride.

A reception for the immediate families was held after which the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls. They are making their home at 244 Dupont St., Belvidere, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Frankenstein, Morningside Ave., are celebrating a wedding anniversary quietly at their home today and will receive the good wishes of their friends.

Madame FENWICK BEAUTY SHOPS

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Good it is to have Mr. Wyckoff back after his tour of the south with the Boy and Girl Scouts. He tells of insects that interfered with sleep in the swamps of Florida — but for all that he looks like a million and reports a wonderful time. One result of his trip is shown in our candy department, where we're selling peans purchased enroute home. They are delicious too, as I will guarantee after sampling a few given Carol Ann Smith. Carol Ann is a Florida miss, by the way—a niece of Mardee Wyckoff and a fervent admirer of our Pennsylvania Mount-tains and people. . . . One of our shoppers this past Saturday was a resident of Queens County who told me she'd insisted on coming back to Stroudsburg this weekend because on a visit of last weekend, she hadn't time for a visit to Wyckoff's. Our center aisle display of treasures from Israel, Denmark, Egypt, and Portugal proved most fascinating to her, and we had an interesting chat climaxed by the appearance of Mr. Wyckoff, whom she was delighted to meet. "I've always enjoyed my visits to Wyckoff's," she told him, "and remember one time in particular when we were trying to find the words to 'Danny Boy' for use in a program at home. You didn't have the music to sell, but one of your salesmen took time to write out the lyrics for us." The salesman, Mr. Wyckoff and I decided, must have been the late Robert Hilton, who made many friends for our store. . . . A seven year old lad, having a wonderful time in our toy department this past Saturday night, attracted my attention, and was responsible for my meeting once again with a former school friend. She was Dorothy Rupert, when we sat an aisle apart in the fifth grade, but today she is Dorothy Sewell of West Palm Beach. Mother of an older boy, now in service, she's still the bright-eyed brunette whom I remember so well. "The real reason I came in here to-night," she confided, "was to see how many people I'd recognize," but I fooled her. She didn't know me at all. . . . This past Friday night, Selma Ruster, Mary Hitesman, Arthur Widmer and I took to the mountains to see Margaret Truman in "Autumn Crocus." Judging from eye-witness reports, the former President's daughter improved in stage presence with each performance, and we found her most charming and far superior to the play itself. Selma is a delightful companion, and was recounting some of her experiences in our Wyckoff gift department. One anecdote concerned the man who purchased a sun dial and returned later to say that it was inaccurate. For a moment, Selma was baffled. "Well, I can't account for that," she admitted "unless you set it by daylight saving time." The customer considered and finally said, "By golly, that's exactly what I did." Selma feels it's a point that should always be stressed in selling sun dials—they must be set by standard time. Frankly, I was amazed. I always thought you just bought a dial and plunked it down anywhere you had a sunshiny space to fill. I'm almost as ignorant as the woman who purchased one, and was all astutter because she couldn't find the place to wind it. . . . Thoughts in passing: wouldn't those enormous Delit jars make gorgeous lamp bases? (Dream on, thou senseless maid!) . . . Incidentally, if you have lamps that need new parts, or vases you wish to make into lamps, you'll find brass adapters in our houseware department at 15c. That's just a bit of extra-curricular knowledge gleaned by hanging around the receiving room. . . . "Do you realize," Shirley Hay asked, "that Friday was just six months away from Christmas?" Why does someone always think of things that cost money? Nevertheless, I wandered over to the doll counters to look at the drastically reduced Terri Lees, etc., and it's truer than true that now's the time to buy.

Pocono's Audiences Wonderful

MOUNTAINHOME — Pocono Mountains theater audiences are "wonderful," Margaret Truman said Saturday.

The golden-haired daughter of former President Harry Truman made the comment in her dressing room after coming offstage from the Saturday matinee.

The "warmth and easy responsiveness" of local theatergoers at Pocono Playhouse had been a great help during her first week in the legitimate theater, Miss Truman said.

HER STAY in the Poconos had been delightful, she said, but there had been too little time to visit the places she'd wanted to go.

Miss Truman gave her final local performance in "Autumn Crocus" Saturday night. She left the Poconos yesterday to drive to the Binghamton, N. Y., Summer theater, next stop on a nine-week tour which will end in September at Philadelphia's "Playhouse-in-the-Park."

That last engagement, she said, is going to offer an additional challenge to the "Crocus" cast because the play will be "staged in the round." The former president's daughter indicated she was looking forward to the new experience.

AFTER standing in the backstage hallway for more than 20 minutes to sign autographs, Miss Truman sat down for an informal chat with a reporter, issued her declaration of affection for local audiences and, in response to a couple of questions, said there were a couple of things she thought she might clear up.

First of all, she said, contrary to published reports "I was not sobbing when I came offstage" on opening night. I was hot and I raved to my dressing room to change."

Miss Truman wears a heavy suit for the closing scene in the play. One woman wire service reporter, covering the Truman opening, had said that the actress was crying when she came offstage from the last scene because she had forgotten a line.

"I DID NOT forget a line in the last scene," Miss Truman said. "My first thought on coming off the stage was to get into something cool."

She was concentrating so much on changing her costume, she said, "that I almost forgot to come back for my bow. I had forgotten it until someone yelled 'Get back out there! They're waiting for you.'"

Then there was the matter about a comment Miss Truman had made backstage. "When I had finished rehearsing the play with the set," she said, "I turned and said I was scared of that ladder leading up to the balcony for the second act."

THIS COMMENT was picked up by the same wire reporter and, Miss Truman said, it had been made misleading. "Actually," she declared, "this set is extremely well built and they (the backstage crew) had gone to an awful lot of trouble making the ladder just as secure as they possibly could. It's probably one of the best sets we'll have on tour."

But the best things about that first week in the Poconos had been the responsive audiences, Miss Truman maintained.

"They had been," she repeated, "wonderful."

Margaret Truman Hopes Her Mother Will See Her Star First Play "Autumn Crocus"

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—Margaret Truman said yesterday she had been advised that her father, former President Harry Truman, was "resting well" and she had no immediate plans to rush to his bedside.

Miss Truman, touring the summer theater circuit in the play, "Autumn Crocus," arrived here in mid-afternoon by automobile from Mountainhome, Pa.

She said she planned to open in the play at the Triple Cities Playhouse here today as scheduled.

ASKED AT a news conference about her further plans in view of her father's illness, Miss Truman replied: "We will cross that bridge when we come to it."

Meanwhile, she said, she expects to continue the tour.

She said she had checked with her home in Missouri after arriving in Binghamton and had been informed that the former President was "resting well."

She expressed the hope that her mother would be able to see her star in the play somewhere along the circuit, but said there was no definite plan.

Her engagement here continues through Saturday.

MISS TRUMAN said she liked acting "very much." It's "kind of fun to have other people on the stage with you," she told the newsmen.

Of her first experience in summer stock, she said: "I love it. I like all of it."

When newsmen questioned her about romance and possible matrimonial plans, Miss Truman told them: "I've never been far removed from romance. I just haven't been engaged all the times they've said I have."

Miners Offer To Give Up Pay For Work

TAMAQUA, Pa. (AP)—Hard coal miners in the anthracite-rich Panther Creek Valley yesterday urged the Lehigh Navigation Coal Co. to cancel plans to close down permanently all its operations and offered to give up 20 days' pay to defray any losses.

In an orderly mass meeting attended by some 2,000 persons—men and women—in the sun-drenched Tamaqua High School stadium, the miners adopted a 10-point plan they hoped would keep the Panther Creek Valley mines in operation.

The contribution of 20 days' pay from the employees would provide a fund of about 1½ million dollars.

The jobs of some 5,000 men are affected in an announced company plan to shut down the mines—the source of vital anthracite for 134 years—on Wednesday.

ACTUALLY THE mines have been closed since May 3 when the company said it could not continue to absorb the huge operating deficits. Then in June it announced a plan to reopen, on a curtailed basis, and on condition that those miners who would still be working would dig more coal per day without any increase in pay.

Four of the five locals in the valley accepted the back-to-work plan, but the men in Tamaqua flatly refused. Their main reason: Only half of the normal 1,200-man working force in the Tamaqua colliery would get back their jobs. This they didn't like.

So the men in John L. Lewis Tamaqua local set up picket lines, and nobody went back to work.

For two weeks this condition persisted. And finally last week the company called it quits—for good.

THEY HOPE to meet with Gov. John S. Fine either today or Tuesday afternoon. And they hope the governor—himself a resident of Nanticoke in the anthracite district—will be able to convince the company to change its mind and stay in business in the Panther Valley.

The 10-point plan adopted in the unanimous standing vote was drawn up by Judge James C. McCready of the Carbon County Common Pleas Court with the assistance of a special Miner Citizens Committee.

The plan: No change in the working contract.

All mines to operate.

DISCONTINUANCE of buying coal from other coal-producing firms.

Cancel all contracts with firms hauling refuse.

Company shall reduce present high overhead.

No restrictions to anyone trying to buy coal.

All employees of the company, union and non-union, shall give 20 days' pay to help defray the operating losses of the company, if there are any.

COMPANY MUST permit a committee of mine workers and public to have access to all books and financial transactions.

All employees to assist in making the mining of coal a success and profit.

Every coal company employee to do all he can to increase the sale of coal.

James Gildea, former Democratic congressman from Schuylkill County, was chairman of the meeting. He said flatly that "the coal company is not bluffing" and "we need all the help and cooperation possible to get the area mines back in operation."

RECREATION AREA and swimming hole for Delaware Water Gap is prepared by volunteers along Cherry Creek Saturday. Picnic ground was cleared, bulldozed level. Creek was deepened

Delaware Water Gap Borough Opens Pool As First Phase Of New Community Park

DELAWARE WATER GAP —

This community's first official swimming area, later to be developed as a borough park, was opened to local children for the first time yesterday.

Located along Cherry Creek on the Glenwood Hotel property, the section was dredged and developed in the past two weeks by various work crews following approval by borough council.

Requested by citizens, the park project results after a favorite swimming "hole" was converted by the hotel management as a boating area for guests.

BUT T. E. BRIDGER SR. and T. E. Bridger Jr., hotel operators, allocated the present site to the borough and also made a contribution toward the development.

A $1 year-to-year lease was obtained by borough officials from the hotel management, according to Philip Farber, councilman and park committee member.

Assisting on the committee from council are William Kitchen, and Chief Burgess Benjamin Wilberg. Citizens selected Harold Leitner, Robert Clarkson and John Jennings Jr. as their representatives on the special planning committee.

IN THE FUTURE, Farber said, the 150-foot long section will be developed to accommodate about 300 persons. Picnic tables and fireplaces will be built, he said.

Deepest point in the swimming section is about five-feet, Farber noted. The creek is 30-feet wide at the point. Entrance to the new playgrounds is on Cherry Valley Road.

Says McCarthy Will Be Asset In Elections

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. Richard Simpson, (R-Pa.), chairman of the GOP Campaign Committee, said yesterday that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy "will prove to be an asset" to the Republican party in the fall elections.

On a television program AEC, Simpson said he was certain "we can elect more Republicans if we use McCarthy" throughout the country.

It was his considered opinion, Simpson added, that Communism will definitely be an important issue in the coming elections.

Week Of Coincidences Perks Up Oddities Over Anything That's Happened

By Saul Pett

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a fine week for coincidence. No stranger there, John S. Angel announced he was a candidate for treasurer of Paradise, Kansas.

In Denver, an attractive woman managed to cash a forged check at Sam Alexander's Wide-A-Wake Market.

BATTLING a summer slump, the Rev. Frank H. Heinz posted this sign in front of his Germantown, Pa., church: "Come in and have your faith lifted."

What's a kiss worth? In London the latest quotation was $2,800.

There Mrs. Lily Green said that injuries received in an auto accident made any pressure on her lips so painful she couldn't kiss.

SHE WAS awarded damages of 1,000 pounds.

In Newark, N. J., proprietor George Schanerman picked up a picket sign and picketed his own laundry while three striking employees rested for an hour.

"My boys have been striking for two weeks and they're tired," he said.

"What the heck, I'm a regular guy."

THERE ARE some days when dishonesty pays less than on other days.

In Hagerstown, Md., someone stole a suitcase belonging to Harry Albacker, a traveling entertainer. The suitcase contained a 60-pound, 10-foot python—live.

Due to the death of my mother, Mrs. Mary Korcykoski, my shop will be closed Monday and Tuesday, June 28 and 29, Magda's Beauty Salon, 814 Sarah St., Stroudsburg.
